

Tony Trew

BEng, MAICD, PMP (Project Management institute, PhD Candidate (QUT)

Tony is the founder of TAMPAL Consulting, a firm specialising in providing independent project and business assurance services.

Being a professional business leader who thrives on enabling organisations to become successful; Tony offers his clients a breadth of management skills honed through the education from top management schools and experience gained from working with large and successful global organisations, such as Boeing.

His ability to build rapport at all levels of an organisation has been fundamental in helping to improve the client's project and business assurance systems.

“His professional project management was essential in developing our organisation”

“Very pragmatic approach and totally understands the challenges faced by the company”

Areas of excellence include:

- Change management
- Strategic alignment
- Leadership development
- Developing teams
- Project management
- Program assurance
- Business development
- Contract negotiations
- Operations management
- Quality management
- Safety management
- Process re-engineering